The National Autistic Society (NAS) is the UK's biggest charity for people with autism. Children with autism can find it hard to speak and sometimes don't understand how to play with other children. They may need support from parents, teachers and other children to help them make friends.

For more information about autism and services in your area please visit the NAS website at www.autism.org.uk

The National Autistic Society

- LEGO Club Members who send donations of at least £10 (ten pounds) to the LEGO Club Charity Challenge address will receive their engraved brick key ring and LEGO Frog within 28 days of receipt of donation.
-  The LEGO Club member who raises the highest total amount will receive a year's supply of LEGO toys. This will be distributed as a product of the winners' choice to the value of up to £100 every month for 12 months. In the event of a tie, the winner is to be decided based on the date the entry was received (i.e. the earliest entry wins).
-  LEGO Club Members with total donations ranking them from 2nd to 201st will each receive a day ticket to LEGOLAND Windsor to be used at any time during the 2011 season.

Detailed terms and conditions will be included with the sponsorship pack sent to participating LEGO Club Members.

CHANGING THE RULES OF PIRATE PLANK!

Yar, me hearties! The Pirate Captain has caught some of his crew trying to steal his treasure – and now he's making the treacherous bilge-rats walk the plank over a sea full of hungry sharks! As one of the pirates, it's your job to knock the other players off their planks...before they do the same to you! The last pirate standing wins (though the captain still might make him hoist the mizzen-mast or swab the deck to teach him a good lesson).

But this is a LEGO game, and that means you can rebuild it to change the rules! Here are just a few of the endless ways that you can create and customize your own Pirate Plank games. How will YOU play? It's all up to you!

2-4 7+ 10 - 20

PIRATE PLANK

CHANGE THE RULES!

HERE COMES THE CAPTAIN!

When you roll the Skull & Crossbones on your LEGO Dice, place the pirate captain at the end of one of the planks. The pirate on that plank will have to move double the usual amount when he moves forward (the captain's got a bad temper!), but the captain is blocking his way into the water, so someone will have to roll another Skull & Crossbones and move the captain to another plank before the pirate can be dunked into the water.

YOU FIRST, MATEY!

When you roll the Skull & Crossbones, you can also jump sideways to the next plank over. Now when your pirate has to move forward, any other pirate in front of you on the plank has to move forward the same amount!

FRIENDS OR ENEMIES?

Don't want to move any players forward when it's your turn to roll? Now you don't have to – but we can't promise that they'll return the favour! Or for a faster game, change the rules so that ALL of the players but you have to move when you roll the LEGO Dice!

OTHER IDEAS!

- Take the extra Skull & Crossbones off the ship and add it to your LEGO Dice to change the odds and play!
- Use pieces from your own LEGO brick collection to make the planks longer – or change their shapes around!
- Make up a rule to help your pirate fight the sharks or fire the cannon!
- The possibilities are endless!

THE WORLD OF PRINCE OF PERSIA!

© Disney Enterprises, Inc. and Jerry Bruckheimer, Inc.

Prince Dastan leads the attack on the heavily guarded Alamut Castle! Together with his new friend Seso, he must dodge hidden obstacles, scale sheer stone walls, battle fierce enemies and try to capture the mystical Dagger of Time!

The evil Nizam has the mystical dagger and is about to unleash the Sands of Time to take over the kingdom! It's up to Dastan and Princess Tamina to jump, dodge and climb their way through the cavern's treacherous traps before it's too late...but time is running out fast!

Can you match the Prince of Persia characters to their weapons or items of clothing? Draw a line to connect the character and what belongs to him or her in the puzzle to the right!

HOW TO TAKE A 'COOL CREATIONS' PICTURE

- Digital photos should be a minimum of 4x6 and 300 dpi.
- Make sure your photo is in focus. If you're using a digital camera, try using the Macro function.
- Use a plain background. Too much clutter behind your model will make it hard to see.
- Have good lighting. Bright daylight is best, and use a flash if you take your photo indoors.
- Fill the picture. The larger the model is in the photo, the better. If you're in the picture, make sure your model is big enough to see clearly.
- If you're printing out your picture, use shiny photo-quality paper.
- Keep a copy for yourself – we can't return your original photo!

UNDER THE BONNET

- The first dune buggies hit the beach in the late 1950s in California.
- Most dune buggies are either built from scratch or created by modifying other cars, either to lighten the weight, increase the engine power, or both.
- The first buggies in use were called "water pumpers," and were much heavier than the ones we know of today.
- One of the biggest innovations in dune buggy design has been the use of fibreglass bodies, which has made the cars lighter.
- Although originally intended for use on deserts and beaches, buggies are now popular for off-roading in all kinds of environments.
